The English Department Presents

Visiting Scholar Series

James R. Kincaid

Wednesday, March 14
7PM, Alumni Center

Childhood, Death, and the Forms of Tragedy

James R. Kincaid is Aerol Arnold Chair in English at the University of Southern California. His earlier work in Victorian literature and culture has yielded to publication in cultural studies, particularly in criminality/lunacy/perversion, in age studies, in censorship, and in other areas of literary, political, and cultural studies. He is best known for his groundbreaking study, Child-Loving: The Exotic Child and Victorian Culture.